Guide to Stairway Replacement

Please understand this guide is designed to assist you in gathering general information and rough measurements. If you decide to move forward with a project a representative of Aspen River Wood & Glass Co. will schedule an onsite visit to take exact measurements and confirm all project components.

To replace existing stairways:

1. How many wood spindles do you currently have? When counting separate into the following categories:
 - Spindles (the smaller pickets)
 - Newels (the larger posts)
2. Measure the approximate height of the existing spindles from the bottom to the bottom side of the handrail.
3. Take pictures of each run/section of railing you currently have (if you have separate runs/sections in different parts of the home it's best to take a picture of each)

To install new stairways:

1. Measure the length (in linear feet) of the proposed new railings.
2. Take pictures of the space you are interested in having the new railings, (if you are considering having runs/sections of railings in separate locations it's best to take a picture of each)
